

Waltraud Glaeser

VUCA Expert

What does the VUCA world mean for me?

My belief and experience is that people are able to find direction and suitable solutions under the most difficult conditions. Sometimes they grow beyond themselves.

It is therefore more surprising that these skills and potentials seem to be stuck somewhere at a company gate – at least if you listen to the complaints of some managers.

I am firmly convinced that people are able to do a great job and dedicate their interest and motivation to common goals if they can rely on collaborative frameworks and on trust that allows them to take responsibility.

Qualifications

- Master of Political Science
- Coach training
- Training as Introvision Coach
- Sales coach and trainer
- Systemic change and organizational consultant
- Holistic presenter using the Genuine Contact™ method
- Education in team and group coaching
- Training in aptitude diagnostics and talent management
- Long-term implementation of selection procedures and assessment centers for specialists and executives
- Professional SCRUM Master
- VUCA Facilitator

These are essential success factors in order to maintain orientation and to navigate successfully in a VUCA world.

The VUCA world platform wants to support organizations and their stakeholders to develop and deploy self-organizational capabilities and strengthen the required skills and resources especially in these dynamic times influenced by volatility, uncertainty, complexity and ambiguity to increase individual VUCA fitness.

Work experience

- 12 years self-employed as an organizational consultant, moderator, coach and trainer
- 5 years member of the supervisory board
- 15 years experience as branch manager of a profit center, lecturer at the academy, coach, sales coach, consultant in business development in a company for personnel services
- 6 years assistant to the management in an international courier service with the emphasis on the development and expansion of the operational and strategic international business
- Speaker on various topics of the VUCA - World